

ANOTHER CONCESSION FROM THE ROAD.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC GRANTS THE REQUEST OF THE MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION.

The Merchants' Association has obtained another concession from the Southern Pacific Company. The concession is a modification of the earlier propositions made by this system for the transport of New-York merchants living in the territory covered by the Southern Pacific road. The arrangement which was perfected yesterday provides that the Southern Pacific Company will tickets by way of New-Orleans through to Washington on the dates of September 1 to 4, inclusive, in connection with the Southern roads reaching New-Orleans, all of which have put on sale excursion tickets to Washington between those dates, good for thirty days from date of sale. This is a far better arrangement, and enables the Texas merchants, who want to come by rail to reach Washington, where they may purchase their tickets on the certificate plan through to New-York, to do so.

For those merchants in Texas who prefer to come part of the way by water, the Southern Pacific Company has confirmed the arrangement made by the Merchants' Association and the Southern Pacific Company, by which the latter company agreed to bring merchants from New-Orleans to New-York by way of the Gulf of Mexico, and thence by steam to New-York. This, with the action already taken by the Southern Pacific Company to bring merchants from New-Orleans to New-York by way of the Gulf of Mexico, and thence by steam to New-York, will result in a far better arrangement for the transport of New-York merchants living in the territory covered by the Southern Pacific road.

DIVORCED WITHOUT HER KNOWLEDGE.

Mrs. Selma L. Levi, known professionally as Lena Meriville, a burlesque actress, has been a suit in the Supreme Court for a limited divorce from her husband, Albert L. Levi, the theatrical manager known as "Lena Meriville." The couple were married in 1883 in Boston, when the plaintiff was playing in "Jane" with one of the Frohman companies, of which her husband was the manager. She spent some time afterward with her husband at his parents' home in New-York, and then made a Southern tour with him. Her husband left her in 1894, and she recently learned that he had secured a divorce from her in West Virginia. Mrs. Levi asks the courts of this State to set aside the divorce granted in West Virginia, and to grant her a divorce from her husband, Albert L. Levi, on the ground that it was obtained without her knowledge. The plaintiff wants an order for the service of the summons by publication, as she declares Mr. Levi cannot be found in this State.
